

Vocalist James Murray of "West Coast Soul" puts on a great show with his unique and tasteful renditions of popular songs, and the crack jazz/blues combo that he fronts is always swinging behind him. The band members obviously enjoy performing together, and that energy translates to an attentive audience that really gets into it as well.

How would I describe James Murray? Soulful. Whether you label him a Blue eyed soul, Neo-soul, Classic soul or any other kind of soul.... He is without question, soulful.

Blending the familiar soul anthems of the 60's & 70's with the fresh sounds of today. James Murray puts his thumbprint on each and every song, and satisfies....As far as I'm concerned, James Murray delivers and is among the finest of the young lions singing today.

West Coast Soul is a trio of veteran players backing up a young and very talented soul singer, James Murray. Drawing on the music of artists from James Taylor & Billy Joel, to Stevie Wonder & Al Green, to B. B. King & Ray Charles, West Coast Soul and James Murray deliver great arrangements and solid grooves on soul tunes that were hits in the 60's and 70's.

West Coast Soul is a rehearsed, professional band that will be a pleasure to work with. The band's configuration is a lead singer fronting a trio comprised of keyboards, bass and drums. This tight little group can and will bring the volume down to what ever level your event requires with the ability to turn up the energy whenever you like. Four piece makes us fit a tight budget and a tight room. Of course we can add additional players to fit your needs.
